Library Services for the Blind & Print Disabled

The Talking Books Program provides free library services to Wyoming residents who are unable to read regular print material due to visual, physical or reading disabilities - whether permanent or temporary. It is estimated that over 10,000 people who live in Wyoming qualify for the program.

All library materials are sent and returned through the mail free of charge. Materials can be selected from large print catalogs, audio, or through a trained reader's advice.

For information about the application, starting up service, or equipment loaned:
 Wyoming Department of Education
 Services for the Visually Impaired
 (307) 586-6062
<http://talkbooks.wyoming.gov/the-blind-and-print-disabled-program/about-the-service>

Once service is established, library materials and reader's advisory services are available at:
 State Blind Library Program for the Blind and Disabled
 Toll-free (800) 453-4295
blind@slip.gov
<http://www.slip.wyoming.gov>

- Serves those who:
- Are legally blind
 - Cannot physically hold a book
 - Are dyslexic, autistic, or have traumatic brain injury

- Who else might be interested:
- Special Education teachers
 - Counselors/School Psychologists
 - Occupational/physical therapists
 - Teachers who have students who qualify in their classrooms
