REPORT

In September the ILS products committee completed a poll to select the best date for meeting. The second Thursday of the month at 11 am was the chosen. In October we meet at discussed whether or not we were ready to update the web document that displays our survey results for ILS products. It was determined there wasn't enough change to warrant a new document. In November, we discussed libraries that are looking at self-check systems, Symphony web and the additional purchases by the State Library to let libraries look at and test the product, and we talked about Natrona County's venture into Syndetics Unbound. We decided to omit the December meeting due to the busy holiday schedule so our next meeting date is January 9th. Although we have a full committee we are generally missing several members each time we meet, which is to be expected when assigned duties trump volunteer time on the committee.

Respectfully submitted by Mary Jayne Jordan, ILS Products Committee Chair
